DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to under 37 CFR 1.71, as being so incomprehensible as to preclude a reasonable search of the prior art by the examiner. For example, the following items are not understood: it is not understood how the sensing elements (15) correlate to the segments (11). The entire invention is not understood. What is the 'inclination' with respect to? How are deviations compensated for? The specification does not include drawings, a brief description or a background.

Applicant is required to submit an amendment which clarifies the disclosure so that the examiner may make a proper comparison of the invention with the prior art.

Applicant should be careful not to introduce any new matter into the disclosure (i.e., matter which is not supported by the disclosure as originally filed).

Drawings

The subject matter of this application admits of illustration by a drawing to facilitate understanding of the invention. Applicant is required to furnish a drawing under 37 CFR 1.81(c). No new matter may be introduced in the required drawing. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is unclear how the invention works. The correlation between the sensing elements and the segmented sanding block is not clearly defined. It is unclear what the 'inclination' is in reference to. It is unclear what problem is being solved and how the claimed device works in order to solve the problem.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, how are the sensing elements and the segmented sanding block structurally correlated? What do the sensing elements 'sense'? What is the inclination of the block in reference to? How is a sensing element moved laterally? With respect to what? Claim 2, How do the sensing elements adjust? In response to what? Same for claim 3. Claim 4, How are the 'segments controlled'? Inclined with respect to what?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3723

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Hesseman-4,601,134.

Hesseman discloses a sanding machine with a segmented sanding block having pressure pads (7) that press a sanding belt under a controlled pressure against a workpiece (2) in correspondence to sensing elements (14) that determine workpiece properties, such as width and thickness.
